++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry with scattered showers. Rain Sunday afternoon.

Today:
Any residual rain from overnight clearing during the morning as cloud slowly moves eastwards, allowing for brighter skies in the afternoon. The odd shower is still possible for some. Much less windy and feeling less cold. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
A mostly clear start to the evening, with cloud building up from the west overnight. Isolated showers, occasionally heavy, are possible. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Increasing frequency of showers in the west throughout the morning ahead of a band of rain, locally heavy, approaching from the west during the afternoon. Likely clearing overnight. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday widespread showers, locally heavy, on-and-off through the day. Tuesday and Wednesday largely dry with scattered light showers mostly restricted to the northeast.
